Wainwright Hotel Now Changed Hands

Many former patrons will be interested to learn that the Wainwright Hotel (formerly owned and operated by Mr. H. C. Link) has been sold to a group of business men who will be known as the Wainwright Hotel Co., Ltd.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pigeon will take over the management on Oct. 1st, and will be in charge of the above owners.

The dining room is being completely renovated and re-modelled, and plans are to have it finished and in operation by the end of October. This will be a fully modern dining room where it will be a pleasure to dine.

We are sorry to lose Mr. Link as one of our business men, and wish him success in the future; and at the same time extend a hearty welcome to the new Wainwright Hotel Co., Ltd.

U.S. Marine Corps Put on Good Show

The feature picture which comes to the Elite theatre for this week end writes a splendid page into the history of the U.S. Marine Corps under the title "Wake Island".

Although completely devoid of romance, it is a factual record of the terrible onslaught of the Jap forces by both sea and air upon the small island fortress in the far Pacific ocean held by the boys of this famous corps.

Brian Donlevy in the lead is supported by a cast of characters portraying the story written in bullets and blood from the start of its bombing right up to its capture, and will no doubt prove a "S.R.O." attraction to local playhouse fans for Thurs., Fri. and Sat. next.

OCTOBER LIQUOR RATION UNCHANGED

There will be no change in ration of hard liquor, wine or beer for the month of October, Liquor Board officials said in Edmonton Friday.

October is last month of the beverage year, and toward the end of the month, decision will be reached regarding any changes in quotas for November.

C.N.R. President Invests U.S. Colonel

The Pas, Man.—When a Canadian Railway President invests a colonel of the United States army with the eagle insignia of his new rank, that is news. Col. J. P. Fraim, Officer Commanding, United States Army Forces, Central Canada, Headquarters, Winnipeg, is accompanying R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president of the Canadian National system, on an inspection tour of the railway's northern facilities.

When he boarded the train, he was a Lieutenant-Colonel. At Dauphin, he received a telegram from Washington announcing his promotion. It is customary for a ranking officer to make the investiture; Col. Fraim said he would be honored of Mr. Vaughan would pin the eagles on his shoulder tabs.

The little ceremony was dramatic with contrasts. It took place in northern Manitoba. Col. Fraim was born in Kentucky, brought up in Mississippi, his home now. If it wasn't for the war, he would be in Beverly Hills, Calif., but he wears ribbons which show that he has seen service in all parts of the world. At 33 he is one of the youngest colonels in the United States Army.

Revised Programme For Grade 10 Pupils

Pupils entering grade X this year, and the parents of such pupils, will be interested in the revision recently announced by the Department of Education. (This revision marks the introduction of the four-year high school programme in Alberta.) According to a bulletin just issued to all high school principals, pupils now entering high school will take five compulsory subjects, where formerly pupils took three. This means, of course that the "optional" choices are reduced in number. Beginning this year English 1 (5), Social Studies 1 (6), P.T. and Health 1 (3), Science 1 (5), and Mathematics 1 (5), must be taken by all grade X students—in effect, twenty-four compulsory credits where formerly there were only thirteen. This leaves only a maximum of eleven credits to be made up from "options".

The following ruling will be of especial interest to parents and pupils: "No restriction will be placed upon the choice of subjects (optional) by pupils who passed grade IX with either an 'A' or 'B' rating. The only restriction on pupils who passed with a 'C' rating is that they will not be allowed to study a Foreign Language in their first year in high school."

AT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Brunker will be at home to their friends and acquaintances on Sunday next, Oct. 10th, 3 to 6 in the afternoon; the occasion being their Twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Among former well-known stars of the stage and screen now in khaki is Lance-Corporal Douglas Montgomery, star of "Little Man, What Now?" and other hits, who is an instructor in a Canadian Army basic training centre.

BOARD OF TRADE MONTHLY MEETING

The regular monthly meeting is to be held in the Council Chamber of the TOWN HALL, TO-NIGHT (Oct. 6th) at EIGHT O'CLOCK SHARP, and it is hoped that a big turn-out of all interested will be on hand, as very important business is to be dealt with.

By Order

Arthur W. Holmes

One of the CBC Technicians who traded a home job for front-line duty overseas, Art Holmes went over in 1939, the first Canadian radio engineer to reach Britain. He travelled with the first Canadian contingent. He recorded the Battle of Britain, sitting in Regent's Park with a pack set on his back and an inferno of bombs blazing about him. Now he is back in England again for his big job, after a year at the CBC's Dixie transmitter, along a rural Ontario highway.

ALL SCHOOLS RE-OPEN ON TUESDAY NEXT

By making Monday next a public holiday for Thanksgiving Day, the school children have received a day's extension of their summer holidays, but sharp on Tuesday morning next (Oct. 12) all schools will re-open for the fall term.

The town teaching staff is complete, but the school division is still some 25 teachers short for the large number of rural schools under their control.

Unwritten Rental Law Now Legal

REGINA.—An unwritten law will become a legal fact today, when the new rental regulations of the rentals division of the wartime prices and trade board come into effect.

A popular misconception was the idea that tenants could not be evicted by their landlords during the winter months, the prices board has stressed, but there was no legal ruling which prevented landlords from giving notice to tenants at any time.

In the new regulations of the rentals division, there is a clause which prohibits landlords from giving notice to tenants to vacate during the winter.

Rentals officers of the prices board from various parts of Canada are at present in conference in Regina discussing the new regulations and other matters relating to them.

Calgary to Get New Army Centre

CALGARY.—Plans for the construction of an army reception centre in Calgary were announced Friday. The contract has been awarded to the Bennett and White Construction company at a cost of about $30,000.

The building will be considered a wing of No. 13 District Depot under the command of Lt.-Col. J. W. Littleton, M.C. Facilities are provided for the complete medical examination of all army recruits in Alberta.

ONE MAN'S CONTRIBUTION

First person to buy a Fourth Victory Loan bond in Kenora was 19-year-old Andrew Chomik, R.C.N.V.R. telegraphist, who was home on leave. While on a Canadian sub-chaser plying the North Atlantic seaboard, he had lost his right leg.

New Car Licenses To Be Secured

Usual refunds will be paid by the province on motor car plates that are turned in by Jan. 10 next, according to information which officials of the Alberta Motor Association have received from provincial officials.

The refund is 20 percent of the annual license fee and each year is taken advantage of by motorists who decide to lay up their cars for the winter.

This year, it is anticipated that some earlier applications may be due to car owners having exhausted their gasoline ration coupons. In some years, the refunds have amounted to more than $45,000.

On the other hand, it is anticipated that there will be more new licenses issued for the current period, as a 40 percent reduction in the annual fee became effective on Oct. 1. On Jan. 1 the reduction will be 75 percent.

PHEASANT SEASON

First of two cock pheasant shooting seasons opened Friday. It closes Oct. 16, and the second season opens Nov. 1 and closes Nov. 13.

Since Friday, hunters will be able to shoot upland game birds such as Hungarian partridge, bush partridge, and prairie chicken.

Thanksgiving Day Statutory Holiday

OTTAWA.—Thanksgiving Day, to be observed Monday next is a statutory holiday and is expected to be widely observed in Canada, officials said yesterday.

The federal civil service takes the holiday, one of the few holidays it observes in wartime. The government, in an order-in-council also has recommended that employers generally observe the day, and it has been written into many employer-employee agreements as a holiday.

Most war industries are expected to close. So far as could be learned, no plans for official ceremonies have been made.

C.N.R. EMPLOYEES SUPPORT LOAN CAMPAIGN

Winnipeg.—Organization covering the western region of the Canadian National Railways has been completed for the forthcoming Fifth Victory Loan campaign and quotas are being set for employees in all districts and divisions. "We have done well on the western region in the past," says W. R. Devenish, vice president and general manager, "and we confidently expect an increased effort in the new drive."

Honey Ration Is Increased

Molasses and honey rations have been doubled, maple syrup rations are increased from 10 to 12 ounces, and cane, corn or blended table syrup rations increased from 12 to 14 ounces through revision of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board order rationing sweeteners.

The ration of preserved fruits and jam is unchanged, and the alternative purchase of 1/2 pound of sugar or maple sugar with D coupons is unchanged.

To enable consumers ordinarily buying honey, corn syrup and maple syrup packed in large containers to make their purchases, valid date of coupons D4 and D5 was advanced to Sept. 30 from October 14. However, coupons D6 and D7 will not be valid until November 11 in accordance with the present schedule, and subsequently two coupons will become valid every four weeks.

Cut Number, Not Size of Servings

Restaurant operators are reminded by officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board that if their meat quotas are running short they will be required to cut down on the number of servings of meat made, but are not permitted to reduce the quantity of meat offered at any one serving.

2 Alta. Airmen Do Work Over North Sea

OTTAWA—Sept. 29—Three German flying boats were destroyed over the North Sea on the same day recently by bombers of a Canadian long range fighter squadron attached to the coastal command, the Royal Canadian Air Force disclosed here today.

The three victorious Canadian fliers were: F.O. Sydney S. Shulemson, Didsbury, Alta., F.O. Ernest Keefe, Wainwright, Alta., and Sqdn. Ldr. A. L. De La Haye, Vancouver.

All three machines were Blohm and Voss 138 three-engine flying boats, which were caught by the Beaufighters while out on reconnaissance.

Shulemson was on patrol with De La Haye when a Junkers 88 long-range reconnaissance machine was sighted. The Beaufighters went after it and chased it into a cloud. Immediately afterwards, the two Canadians sighted a BV. 138. Attacking swiftly, Shulemson gave it a burst with his cannon and machine guns. It went flaming into the sea.

Fifteen minutes later, the second German flying boat was spotted. This time it was De La Haye who attacked, and the enemy aircraft was shot down in flames.

The same afternoon, Keefe, with his navigator, W.O. B. G. Steed, Windsor, Ont., was patrolling the North Sea when they sighted three more BV. 138's flying in line astern. Keefe went into the attack from the beam and at the same height as the enemy aircraft, picking out the middle boat of the formation as his target.

Gunfire from two flying boats converged on the Beaufighter. But Keefe's cannon shells and machine gun bullets found their mark, chopping large pieces off the enemy plane. Pouring black smoke, the German aircraft turned tail. The Beaufighter circled for a second attack. This time it raced for the stern of a second flying boat. Return fire was heavy but the two Canadians saw the enemy aircraft's port engine and fuselage burst into flames.

COUPON CALENDAR

Now valid—D coupons 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5; Sugar coupons 15 and 16; Tea or coffee coupons 16 and 17; Butter coupons 28, 29, 30 and 31 (expire Oct. 31); Meat coupons, pairs 17, 18 and 19 (expire Oct. 31).
Oct. 7—Meat coupons pair 20 (expire October 31).
Oct. 14—Sugar coupons 17 and 18; Tea or coffee coupons 18 and 19; Butter coupons 32 and 33 (expire Oct. 31); Meat coupons pair 21 (expire Oct. 31).

Officers Appointed To High Posts

OTTAWA.—Changes in command of high army posts in Canada and Newfoundland—resulting from the previously announced disbandment of divisions in Canada and retirement of several senior officers—were announced by defence headquarters.

Among the officers named in the changes made appears that of Brigadier W. O. Colquhoun, M.C., former commander of brigades in active service in Canada, and latterly in command of the brigade training in the Wainwright Park camp, who has been appointed to command the training brigade in Atlantic command.

Apiarist Provides Bees With Sugar

Edmonton.—Beekeepers are urged to apply to the Provincial Apiarist, W. G. Le Maistre, Terrace Building, Edmonton, for permits to supply sugar to winter bees, rather than to the ration office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Assisted by a number of high-class local artists, the choir of the United Church (under the leadership of Cpl. D. Buchan, A.T.C.M.) are announcing a musical to be given in the church on Tuesday next at 8:30 p.m. This should attract quite a large audience. Proceeds will be used to install pews in the church. The advt. appears on p. 5 this week.

The Beaufighter had to break off the engagement at this point and Keefe and Steed returned to the base to report one enemy aircraft "damaged" and the second "severely damaged."

About a week later, a surface aircraft picked up survivors from a U-boat which had been sunk in the north sea. Among the Germans saved were two Luftwaffe men, who turned out to be survivors of the crew of the second flying boat attacked by Keefe and Steed. The enemy machine had been forced to "ditch" in the sea, and as a result Keefe was credited with a "destroyed" instead of a "damaged" enemy plane.

RAISING THE ANTE

Formerly a farmer in the Peterborough area, a 25-year-old private at Barriefield C.O.C.T.C. asked for a $50 Victory Bond.

"$50?" repeated the officer in charge of sales. "Oh, you had better make it $100."

"$100?" said the officer, pen poised. "Well perhaps $150."

"$150?" "Aw, hell, make it $2,000," replied the soldier nonchalantly.

How to Keep Ants Out of The Home

Ants frequently enter dwellings in search of food. They feed on many kinds of foodstuffs but are particularly fond of sweet or fatty substances. Ants may be discouraged from entering houses by keeping shelves, tables and floors in kitchens and pantries as free as possible from crumbs and other food fragments and by storing foodstuffs in ant-proof containers. In addition, openings in floors and walls should be carefully plugged.

The most satisfactory material so far discovered for destroying ants is sodium fluoride, sold by druggists in the form of a white powder. The powder should be scattered or dusted lightly in places frequented by the ants and left undisturbed until the ants have disappeared. As sodium fluoride is somewhat poisonous, care should be taken to prevent children or animal pets from gaining access to it.

As an alternative, baits may be used. They may consist either of meat bones or sponges dipped in sweetened water. When large numbers of ants have collected on the baits they may be destroyed by immersion in very hot water. A bait trap which has been used with success may be made by taking a small tin with a tight lid, punching several holes in the sides and top, and placing a small piece of sponge inside moistened with a syrup prepared by mixing 10 grams of sodium arsenate, 6 ounces of sugar and one pint of hot water. In using this bait, great care must be taken because of the poisonous nature of sodium arsenate.

Canada to Get Fair Share Clothing Goods

Special attention will be paid to children's apparel, which has become a subject of short supply, J. A. Klein, administrator of women's, misses and children's clothing, Wartime Prices and Trade Board told a meeting of the retail trade in the Macdonald hotel Tuesday.

Increasing this supply will require diversion of raw materials and labor, and both children's under-clothing and outer-clothing will be increased.

The increase will not be noticeable immediately on the market, because it now takes longer to produce, but there will be more children's clothing available in ensuing months.

It has been of primary concern that consumers should not have to do without essential clothing, in spite of the huge demands for military goods.

Apparent shortages have been due to over-buying. Consumers in every part of Canada will have available, their share, Mr. Klein said.

WAINWRIGHT, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 6th, 1943

TRAGIC WASTAGE CAUSED BY FIRE

The week of October 3-9 has been set aside by Royal Proclamation as Fire Prevention Week for the purpose of impressing upon the public consciousness the enormous waste of life and property occasioned by fire and the means to be taken to reduce this tragic and unnecessary wastage.

When it is considered that Canada's loss by fire in 1942 was 304 lives and over $31,000,000 property damage, it is easily apparent that something must be done about it. Fire is a disease that annually saps our national wealth and every citizen should resolve to do his bit to wipe out this menace to our happiness and prosperity.

Every citizen can be a soldier in this campaign by simply being careful with fire, by disciplining himself in his smoking habits, by seeing that every fire hazard in his home, store or factory is removed, and by knowing what to do should a fire start. Our soldiers, sailors and airmen are battling a grim enemy on far-away fronts. Let us battle that other enemy—the Fire Demon—on the "home front". We too can help to win the war by preventing fires. Every fire is small in its incipency but it might easily reach the proportions of a conflagration. Our duty is to see that a fire does not start.

This week, in the press, over the radio, in theatres and from the platform, John Q. Citizen will be exhorted to use every care with fire, not only during Fire Prevention Week, but every week in the year. It would be well for him to take this advice to heart and to make Canada a fire-safe country in which to live. We need only to call to mind two holocausts which have occurred during the past year in order to show the tragedy which can follow in the wake of fire. These are the Coconut Grove Night Club fire in Boston in which 491 people lost their lives, and the Knights of Columbus Hotel fire in St. John's, Newfoundland, in which 90 lives were snuffed out. WE CAN NOT BE TOO CAREFUL WITH FIRE!

SHORT NAP

MAY MEAN

A LONG SLEEP

Fighters are careful about their sleeping habits. They do not doze while they are facing their opponents for example. At least the winning kind do not. Both boxfighters and warriors get to be champions and stay champions because they know it is not safe to relax before the opposition or is knocked out.

Supporting the Nazi propaganda master, Goebbels, handed out a new dish—his theme that Canadian troops were losing interest in the war. Let's say his fancy story ran something like this: Canadians in the Navy, the Army and the Air Force are becoming weary; they are more interested in getting back home than in pressing an attack; their aggressiveness has noticeably deteriorated.

What would happen to Goebbels' propaganda in this country? Why, in every big and little town people would laugh it down! We would know the story was a pack of lies. Nothing that the German lie-masters invented could destroy our faith in the determination of our men to win, no matter what the cost.

But suppose that Goebbels tried his hand at such tactics, in reverse. Let us imagine that he planted the following story among Canadian troops overseas: the folks at home are becoming weary of the war; production is dropping noticeably in plants throughout the country; absenteeism is growing into a major problem; young and old are spending more and more money for selfish purposes and are becoming less interested in Victory Loan drives.

Would our men overseas in such a situation have the same confidence in us and the same scorn of such a rumor-story as we would show against reverse propaganda? We think the answer would be "yes". We believe that our troops have confidence in the home front. We have given them every reason for such faith in the past three years. But if we are to be champions in our field as our men in uniform are champions over there, we will remember that even a slight relaxation can prove our undoing. This is particularly applicable to our present task of making the Fifth Victory Loan campaign an outstanding success.

WHITE CLOUD

There has been much smoke on the horizon lately. Old-timers say "look out, a prairie fire is no joke!"

Mr. and Mrs. W. O'Connor and family visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tierney last Sunday, also Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hayden.

Mrs. J. H. Myer and Betty Babb left for Ponoka Tuesday, where Betty will take Grade X.

Joyce and Sonny Haire returned to their home in Turner Valley after spending the holiday with relatives.

We are very sorry indeed to hear that Mr. L. Wallace lost his house by a fire on Friday. Everyone was away at the time; mice gnawing matches are blamed. A few articles of clothing and the washer were saved.

(Too Late For Last Week)

Threshing is in full swing, every one who can possibly help is busy, and we hope the weather keeps fine and everyone finishes this year.

Mr. Jack Ried and Freddy are building a sweep to pick up the bundles for Mr. F. Minter.

We understand our new teacher is Miss Curry from Irma.

What a beautiful country we have in the fall; all gold, red and brown! Mrs. J. H. Myer and Mrs. L. Babb spent the afternoon with Mrs. J. McCann on Wednesday.

NOTES

Hello everyone! Here we are again to bring you up to date on what our Red Cross has been doing. We have been almost too busy "doing" to do any writing.

Of course you all know about our Lunch Counter, and what a success our venture has been! And right now we would like to express our thanks to all who have helped in any way to make it so successful. It has been the result of whole-hearted co-operation that we have been able to carry on. The venture was undertaken in response to a real need, when some extra place, serving food, was greatly appreciated. We also were glad of a chance to earn money to supply comforts for military hospitals, beginning with the one in our own Military Camp.

The nurses' living room at the Military Hospital was furnished by the Alberta Division of the Red Cross. The local branch donated some dishes and two wardens were supplied with radios; and the sick were kept supplied with cigarettes, fruit, flowers, reading and writing material. Games have also been supplied, and Red Cross visitors go out each week to visit the sick and distribute good cheer, sometimes even to write letters for those too sick to write themselves.

Do not forget that the work room is open every Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m. Hospital supplies are always required. Are you one of our workers? If not, won't you join us? If you can't come on Saturday afternoon, contact any of the Executive when you need work materials.

The regular monthly meeting of the Executive will be held in the work room on Monday evening, Oct. 4th, at 8 p.m.

We welcome among our active helpers, the newly organized Sydenham Victory Club, and wish them a happy year of service in Red Cross work.

Various private donations have been received during the summer months, and these are always appreciated.

We gratefully acknowledge the following donations from organizations: 3 Quilts from Wain. W.S.L. 3 Quilts from Greenhills W.S.L. Wainwright Legion 27.00 Gerald Victory Club 10.00 Sydenham Victory Club 2.50

Dear Editor,

Just a few lines to let you know how much I appreciate the clippings from the Star which are sent to me by friends. It certainly is nice to get the news of the community, and even more so now that I am in Sicily. Also, through the medium of your paper, I would like to thank the Mayfield Victory Club for the 100 cigars, which I just received and am enjoying.

Alex and Jack Callas are in the best of health, as well as myself, but it is quite a while since I have seen the rest of the Wainwright boys who are in the brigade.

Since Sicily has been whipped into shape, we have been having it pretty easy and quiet, but as you know, Italy was invaded this morning, so wish us luck. All the best to the folks at home, and I hope to be there soon. Sincerely,
HAROLD KARR.

CANADIAN FARMERS

Save BY MAIL

Determined, systematic saving by every citizen is part of the national price of VICTORY.

Patriotism now demands not only the saving of money but many other things—gasoline and tires, for example. Use of the motor car must be limited to necessary tasks—necessary to the war effort. Many Canadian farmers find it unnecessary to drive to town to do their banking. They just walk to their own mail-box and back.

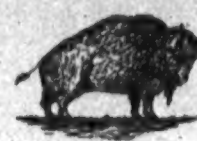

Have you ever tried banking by mail? It is so easy and convenient. Write for our folder, "How to Bank by Mail".

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE

CANADIAN RED CROSS

Give to the utmost...now!

YOUR BANKS are more extensively regulated than any other Canadian business.

Canada's ten Chartered Banks are subject, under the Bank Act, to the most thorough-going regulation. For instance:

The annual audit—conducted by Chartered Accountants appointed by the banks' shareholders—is submitted to the Department of Finance. The Department may call for further special audits, and in addition maintains regular inspections of the banks' affairs through the Inspector-General of Banks, who is obliged by law to examine the banks' books at least once each year.

Then there are monthly returns to both the Department of Finance and to the Bank of Canada. The Minister may also call for special returns at any time.

All this in addition to the Bank Act's extensive regulations covering such phases of banking operation as reserve requirements, types of transactions permitted, interest rates and note issue.

These regulations are for the purpose of safeguarding your savings and guiding the operations of the banks as an essential element of our national life.

If there's one place in the world where time is moving along in high gear it's in the army when a fellow is taking his training and learning something new most every day.

It just seems like the other afternoon that we left Calgary for Camrose, as raw a bunch of rookies as there ever was. Now we're back in Calgary again, partly trained soldiers up at Currie Barracks where they're going to give us the final part of training before they send us over to where we can get some action.

I thought Camrose was tops as an army camp but brother you've just got to see Currie if you want to really see something—fine, white, red-roofed buildings surrounding the well training square, rows and rows of neat huts, a mighty fine battle course, and action all the time.

By the time you hit here they can tell pretty well whether or not you're going to make a real fighting man, and I can tell you there isn't a man who wants to let his squad down.

We go over the same kind of an obstacle course here as at basic but there's a difference. We used to go over in fatigue outfits before and now we rip over the course with packs, rifles and other equipment.

We got on a new business the other morning and it's really something where team work counts—it's attacking through barbed wire.

They put up a stretch of wire in a little coulee near the centre and gave us the low-down on how a platoon should advance through it.

It works something like this. When you get the go ahead sign the first man makes a run at the wire and throws himself onto it bearing down with his body. The next fellow leaps on the first man's back and bears down on the rest of the wire and then the rest of the platoon stream across, using the first two as a sort of human bridge. I'm telling you it's a fine system, and when the boys are working together they can go over the wire and be on their way in no time at all.

Learning River Crossings... Another thing we are learning is river crossings and I'm just mighty glad that it is summer and the river is a little warmer than it might have been a couple of months back.

This is just another of those things where you learn to sort of look after yourself.

We advanced through the brush to the river and then our officer in full kit dived in with a rope around him while we kept the river covered on the idea that the enemy might have snipers on the opposite bank.

As soon as he got across—the spot isn't awfully deep—we swung our rifles around our necks and followed. While this was going on the boys with the mortars and Brens cut a couple of trees and made three cornered rafts lashed with rope. Then they put brush over the poles, put the weapons on top and with the rafts in front of them headed across the river.

Some of the boys had to come through where it was quite a bit deeper so they wrapped packs and stuff in ground sheets and used the bundle as sort of a raft to make the crossing.

It's really something—this river crossing—even if a fellow does get mighty wet swimming across the Elbow.

There's one thing about being at Currie and that is that I'm in a prime spot to get home and see the boys and also Miss Edith, the school ma'am who's been writing to me right regular.

I got down on what they call a "forty-eight" last week end and were the folks ever swell to me! There just happened to be a dance in the school house and I was never off the dance floor the whole evening, and most of the time I was dancing with Miss Edith.

When it's getting time to leave the Boss comes over and tells me I don't have to be hurrying as he's going home with the boys in the truck and is leaving the car for me.

I begin to tell him that he doesn't need to do that when he ups and winks and says, "I don't know, Johnny. Every minute helps, you know, and it shouldn't be long now before you're heading overseas."

Well, after the dance winds up I take the car and I drive Miss Edith to where she is staying, about half a mile away from the school.

"The first man takes a run at the fence and throws himself onto it"

"You know, Johnny," she says, "It isn't going to be long until you're leaving and it would be nice to remember seeing the sun coming up over the hill and the light drifting down the valley."

It's then that I look at my watch and find that it's mighty close to being five o'clock and it isn't going to be long until the sun is creeping over the hill.

I start to thinking again and then I tell Miss Edith all about my idea of coming back and getting a piece of land of my own and raising a few cattle. I tell her that I'm a-thinking a fellow can't be doing that all by himself, and in no time at all I've got around to asking her if she'll marry up with me when the war gets over and I come back.

"Johnny," she says, "waiting is so hard, and I've missed you so. Perhaps it would be better if we were married before you leave."

Luckiest Fellow In The World

Well, I'm telling you, I suddenly figure I'm the luckiest fellow in the whole world.

I kiss her, and just then the sun comes drifting up over the hill and floods the hilltops with gold, then creeps down and lights up the valleys where the deep shadows are still hiding.

We sit there for quite a spell and talk about our getting married, and then I take her home.

When I get back to the ranch the boys are all at a late Sunday breakfast and they start right in to kid me about taking so long to come home.

"Fellas," I tell them, "You can kid me all you want to, but I'm the luckiest on account of Miss Edith is going to marry me right sudden."

Well you should see that bunch. They come a-whooping in my direction, slapping me on the back and wishing me luck.

The boss says that I've got to make arrangements to be married right out at home and he tells me I don't need to worry, on account of he will look after everything for me.

After all that I just go back to camp feeling right swell, and I figure there isn't a luckier soldier in the whole army.

I'm right too because the day after I get back the captain calls me in and me for promotion to lance-corporal.

That one stripe just adds to everything else to make me the happiest guy in Currie—even if there are hundreds of fellows up there.

I guess I show it too, because the boys are always kidding me about looking like the cat that has eaten a canary.

A WEEKLY EDITOR LOOKS AT Ottawa

Written specially for the weekly newspapers of Canada

After 40 years of experience in growing trees on the Prairies, Norman Ross, former superintendent of the Forest Nursery Station at Indian Head, Sask., gives out that in his opinion grass growing in shelter belts has killed more trees than drought itself. He sees the time come to make greater use of longer lived trees than poplar and Manitoba maple.

Announcement here of the new Joint War Aid Committee, United States-Canada, is important. Its decisions will probably have much to do in directing the course of action of Canadian and American cabinet directing bodies in the disposition among United Nations of vast quantities of war supplies, running into many billions of dollars. If any of the United Nations ask for tanks, planes, guns or wheat, the question of where that supply is to come from is, of course, most important. It is a possibility that the committee might be expanded and continued into the post war era when hungry nations of Europe will seek sustenance from the two greatest food storehouses of the world—Canada and the U.S.A.

The 6th Compulsory Employment Transfer Order issued by National Selective Service embraces men who have reached their 16th birthday, and have not passed their 41st. Ex-servicemen must register but are not compelled to accept other jobs. After Sept. 8, employers in the named list of occupations who retain men in the categories without N.S.S. permit are breaking the law. Among the exempted occupations in the wholesale line are included farm products, food products, fuel, ice, gas, oil, grease lumber, building materials, machinery and allied equipment. Employers would do well to see that they familiarize themselves with the order, which goes into detail.

Farmers of Eastern Canada are again urged to buy oats from the west now and take advantage of existing transportation facilities and the subsidy which is on for buying feed grains for storage. There may have been a little difficulty lately in getting western barley because offerings to date have not always been equal to the demand. What is desired is a continuous flow of feed grains to eastern Canada. Talking of barley, the 1943 carry-over is an all-time record, placed at 69,253,707 bushels, compared with 10,908,001 in 1942.

Not a fish story. Despite the drag of war, production of the Nova Scotia fisheries reached the highest point in history of the province in 1942, the marketed value being $15,297,446, a 21 per cent increase over previous years.

Hints for the Household

Sliced bread, butter, a bowl of chopped hard-cooked egg, a jar of mayonnaise, sliced tomatoes, cucumbers, and a jar of jam or jelly are good staples for backyard picnic menus. Sliced cheese or minced cold meat always appeal to everybody's picnic taste, if you can squeeze them into your ration arithmetic.

Ice Cold Brew

Use 1 rounded tablespoon all-purpose grind decaffeinated coffee to every cup (1/2 pint) water. Make by boiled or percolated method. (If percolated, 'perk' 15 to 20 minutes slowly and gently, or longer than ordinary coffee.) Freeze decaffeinated coffee in the ice cube tray. At serving time, heat milk but don't let it boil. Fill glasses with frozen decaffeinated coffee cubes and pour on the hot milk. The result will be a smooth, creamy iced brew.

FARM NOTES

FALL TILLAGE AND WEED CONTROL

Fall tillage is beneficial in controlling weeds on stubble land. Shallow after harvest tillage loosens the soil and covers weed seeds which ripened along with the grain crop and shattered on the ground during harvesting operations. Many of these weed seeds such as stink weed, mustard, shepherd's purse, lamb's quarters, pig weed, wild buckwheat and others will germinate when covered with soil, and are killed by low winter temperatures or are destroyed by subsequent cultivations.

Many weed seeds, such as wild oats, do not germinate well until they have passed through a winter. Shallow fall tillage covers such weed seeds with soil and encourages their germination when spring temperatures and moisture conditions are favorable. While shallow, early spring tillage has a similar effect, the shallow fall tillage is preferable as it lessens spring work and also is more effective in promoting early spring germination of weed seeds.

Deep fall tillage is an important factor in the control of perennial weeds such as Canadian thistle and quack grass. It has been demonstrated repeatedly that two fall plowings will substantially reduce stands of deep rooted perennials such as thistles. A combination of frequent tillage, dry weather and freezing fall temperatures will thin out and weaken stands of creeping rooted weeds, such as quack grass.

Fall tillage reduces the amount of spring work necessary to prepare a seed bed, which in itself is an important factor under prevailing labor conditions.

POULTRY

Poultry is another food that may replace meat as the quality of the protein is comparable and the percentage of the protein is approximately the same as lean meat. The white meat is more rapidly digested because the fat content is lower and there is less connective tissue. You will find that poultry is more expensive than meat, due to the large waste in bones and other inedible parts. About 60% of the weight is lost in dressing, drawing, cooking and bone content. For the city housewife I will define the above terms. Dressing is applied to the bleeding and removal of feathers of the bird. Drawing is the removal of the head, feet and digestive organs.

When buying a bird you should choose one that is plump, compact, with moist soft feet, bright full eyes and a clean, unbruised or unbroken skin. Milk fed chickens appear to be less fat than corn fed, but the fat is more evenly distributed through the flesh, making the bird more tender. The milk fed birds have a better flavour and more juice. As the bird matures the amount of fat increases so that a mature bird has the same percentage of fat as lean meat. Poultry has a high percentage of connective tissue, making it tougher.

When you cook poultry you retain and develop the flavor. Intensify the color and make the bird tender. All young poultry or those with sex characteristics not developed, are tender and so may be cooked by dry heat.

Broiling is one of these methods, the bird is cooked at a high temperature for a short time. Or you could roast a young bird, in this way they are cooked at a moderate temperature for a longer time. Another dry heat method is frying. The poultry should be sectioned, rolled in crumbs and egg and fried in fat. You must remember that these three methods should only be used for tender birds. Older and tougher birds should be cooked by moist heat and for a long er period of time. The temperature should be below the boiling point in order to soften the connective tissue. You could use a meat thermometer in the breast of the bird to test for doneness. When it reaches 175 deg. the bird is done.

ANSWER TO CORRESPONDENTS

"My hair is very dry. Is it because I am out-of-doors a lot? And what shampoo shall I use?"

Fresh air never harms the hair, but too much sun will. Use a spot of brilliantine before you go out. Halo shampoo will solve your hair problem. It is a delightful and simple-to-use shampoo that suits all types of hair, and if your hair displays the slightest tendency to curl, it will bring it out. Try it—and you'll thank me for telling you about it.

"My eyebrows and eyelashes are very thin, and I'm most discouraged about them."

Don't lose heart. Brush them with vaseline to make them grow. Or smooth castor oil on lashes and brows every night. It gradually darkens them, and helps the growth.

"My hands make me ashamed! I have a lot of dirty work, and simply cannot keep them looking nice."

When you've had your hands in water a good deal, rub kitchen salt in while they are still damp. This helps to prevent that red, soft appear ance. When you have been doing a lot of washing-up and very dirty work, use warm olive oil to get the grime out of your hands, then slaps under a running tap. And, of course, give your hands a regular beautifying treatment by washing always with soothing palmolive soap.

"My legs are rough and discolored-looking. How can I make them smooth?"

Scrub your legs every day with soap and water, then massage them with hand lotion. This treatment will quickly make the skin white and smooth.

If your problem is not among these write me confidentially, and enclose four one-cent stamps for my new booklet on Beauty Care. Address: Miss Barbara Lynn, Box 75, Station B, Montreal, Que.

Potatoes Require Careful Handling

Potatoes are a perishable product. They require careful handling and dark cool storage to maintain them at their best, states John Tucker, Manager Seed Potato Section, Special Products Board, Dominion Department of Agriculture, and yet how often the potatoes are seen being thrown about like coal or allowed to stand for hours in doorways and wind down of stores in bright sunlight or frost, deteriorating in appearance and quality all the time. A good product requires good treatment, and all wasteful practices should be avoided, especially under present war conditions when waste is sabotage.

A DAY WILL COME..

WHAT IS A VICTORY BOND?

A VICTORY BOND is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the face value of the Bond on the date of maturity with half-yearly interest until that time. A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada backed by the entire resources of the Dominion. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest when due. A Victory Bond is an asset readily marketable at any time.

Yes, a day will come... when he'll be back, ready to take his place in a Canada he helped make safe for all of us. To speed that day is in our power. We at home... in factories, in offices, on farms... work long hours to hurry it along. We go without, and lend our savings to provide what he needs to win quickly. This is the least that anyone can do. And when that day comes—you'll want to welcome him—and to help him make his hopes come true.

To speed Victory, plan to buy as many Victory Bonds as you can.
